

The Herald and News

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

"Chips" Gives the News Around Bachman Chapel and Union A. S. C. Some Timely Thoughts on the New Year.

This letter was intended for last Friday's paper.

Representative John F. Banks spent last Sunday at home.

Thos. W. Gallman, of near Prosperity, visited his brother J. J. Gallman last Saturday.

Miss Rosa Long accompanied Miss Cora Dominick home last Saturday and spent Sunday with her.

Rev. P. H. E. Derrick, of Sandy Run, S. C., has accepted a call to preach at Bachman Chapel. We learn that he will not start preaching before about the first of March.

There was singing at the church last Sunday evening by the choir.

We are requested to give notice that the Bachman Chapel Sunday school will meet on the second Sunday evening in next month at 2 o'clock for the purpose of reorganizing. We sincerely hope that all parents who have children able to turn out will not only send them but come with them. Let's infuse new life into the Sunday school. We have a lot of children throughout this section who ought to be going to Sunday school every Sunday. God is going to hold us responsible, dear parents, for neglecting the spiritual training of our children.

Miss Loise Wedeman, of Walton station, visited Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Kinard last Saturday and Sunday.

L. O. Griffin and mother have moved to Newberry.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. B. Eppe's little daughter who has been suffering with a bronchial trouble for the past two weeks is improving.

We are also thankful to say our son Holland, who has been quite sick with pneumonia for the past two weeks, is improving.

We heard a man say not long since that Dr. W. A. Dunn, of Pomaria, was a mighty nice little man. Yes, we can go further than that and say he is a mighty good little doctor.

Dear friends, I wanted to have something to say about the past old year, 1901, and the beginning of this new year in my last letter, but other matters crowded it out. Some may think as there is one month of the new year almost gone that it is rather too late to spring up new ideas into a broken year, or at least say things that perhaps should have been said a month ago. But if I can create a single thought into a single heart that would be of any moral good I will feel that I am doubly paid for my trouble or time. There should be a time when all human hearts should lift up their united voices in thanksgiving and praise to that dear one from whom all our blessings, both temporal and spiritual come; and I think that time should especially be at the close of the old year and the beginning of a new year. It is a solemn thing to see how swiftly time is being marked down against our lives, and to consider only a year ago how many dear ones was as we are now, enjoying the mortal pleasures of life who are now sharing the realities of an unknown world to us. Yes, many have died, from the very highest ruler of our nation down to the very lowest and humblest ones on earth, and no doubt but that there are many who will look upon these very lines who will be buried during the year 1902. Good people, death is no respecter of persons; it matters not how vigorous your physical body may be, this is no assurance that you are going to live another 24 hours. The past year has been a very hard one, at least to the poor laboring class who till the soil. We have all summed up our last year's situation, counted out what we have made and what we have lost, and the most of us have long since found that the past year has left us in debt. Now in a literal sense we all know what debt means. To be in debt is to be in bondage. Debt saddens the heart, destroys cheerfulness, weakens courage, brings a certain sense of degradation, and, as Scripture says, "the borrower is servant to the lender." Yes, debt wears heavily on the mind of an honest person who intends to pay it. So we can all fully realize how disagreeable it is to be in debt to one another. But do we consider what a more fearful thing it is to be in debt to God. Whenever we fail to love God with all our heart, though we may serve him in a measure, we are constantly

WORTH MILLIONS.

But Could Not Buy Bread. So Goes the Story.

Like the Man at Klondike, Who Died of Starvation, with His Hut Full of Gold.

Many Die Yearly, With Means of Salvation at Hand, Who Were Not Able to Use Them.

Physicians the world over have known of and believed in the virtues of cod liver oil. They have, alas! also realized its drawbacks and the impossibility of administering it where it would do good. Doctors have seen hundreds of people die of consumption and other wasting diseases, whom they knew might have been saved had they only been able to take enough cod liver oil to obtain from it a sufficient amount of the medicinal principles which it contained.

It is not necessary to go to doctors to know why cod liver oil has not been a popular remedy, or to realize how few people are able to take enough of it to do them any good. The many who have needed and attempted to take this unseasoning remedy, if they are still in a position where they need cod liver oil, are the ones who should throw their hats in the air and shout their joy from the house top at the news which comes to us of Vinol.

These are the people who will never forget the name of this new remedy, nor will they ever cease to thank W. E. Pelham & Son, our prominent druggists, who have become famous in the past few days, on account of his connection with the Boston firm who have introduced this same remedy.

How simple it all sounds, now that we know of it. Here Mr. Pelham has, right in his store, a preparation that looks like and tastes like delicious wine. It is a delicious wine, only there has been added to it this extract of the cod's liver, this peculiar special extract of the curative principles, the means of obtaining which is the only discovery about Vinol. We do not believe there is an invalid in this city suffering from throat lung or bronchial troubles, or in fact any wasting disease, but has not interested himself in this preparation.

Mr. Pelham is kept busy explaining its merits and telling his many friends how it is now possible to take all that is necessary of cod liver oil, or Vinol, its concentrated active medicinal principles, to overcome disease. It has not been difficult matter for him to explain as he has done, the absolute fullness of the grease itself and of the medicinal properties of the liver of the cod. It has not been necessary for him to tell sufferers from such troubles that fat does not make fat, but simply upsets and disarranges the stomach.

There are many people right here in our city who know from out a few days' experience how much benefit they are deriving from this preparation. Those who have already learned that the medicinal properties of Vinol act in a most wonderful manner in checking the symptoms of disease, while at the same time enabling the stomach to assimilate and digest from palatable, everyday food, the necessary nourishment to renew tissue depleted by disease.

Mr. Pelham is justly pleased at the success that will attend the connection he has made with the prominent Boston firm who are putting up this preparation, and justly deserves all the fame and profit that will attach themselves to his name on account of his enterprise in introducing Vinol to our city.

remaining in debt to him, not a debt of sentiment, but really and scripturally according to God's own law, we are failing to pay what his boundless love requires of us. But there is no use of beclouding our minds with what we owe, and filling our souls with so many burdensome thoughts of displeasure. Let our lives be as they may, God has blessed us more abundantly than we deserve. And right now, while our minds are filled with thoughts and resolutions how to better our temporal needs for the new year, it is also more important to consider how best to set our moral nature to work for the good of our souls. The scriptures say, "Seek ye first the kingdom of heaven and all these things shall be added unto you." The world is full of temptations and besetting sins, and one among the most commonly practiced, even among professed Christians, is that of harshly judging each other. Now, dear Christians, we are all more or less guilty of this vice, and we should consider that a disposition of this kind is nothing more than self conceit, in fact we conclude that we are just a little better than others, and that we are entitled to some sort of lordship over them. Isn't it a fact? When you find a streak of badness in others you try to make it look worse. Most people think it quite illuminating to gossip over the shortcomings of their fellow men. Now let us especially put a guard over ourselves in this respect. Make it a rule, if you can't speak good of a person don't say anything at all. Now let us stamp these two resolutions into our new year's thoughts. First, let us avoid going in debt as we would avoid a deadly disease, and especially keep out of debt to God. The debt we owe to our fellow man we may not be able to pay now, but the debt we owe to God we can pay every day of our lives. Then let us train ourselves to live more loving and kind to each other; there is no such thing as loving God and hating your neighbor. If we will only observe these two methods the coming new year and the balance of our lives it will make our burdens so much lighter, and life worth living.

The other list containing the contributions to buy the Bachman Chapel organ has been handed me for publication with request to return sincere thanks to all those who were so kind in contributing.

Mr. James Sligh had the misfortune to lose his only horse last Saturday night. The horse died with blind staggers. Only those who have felt it can realize how such little blows feel to a poor man.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Eppe's son Wilber is quite sick with pneumonia.

Dr. W. A. Dunn is doing some good work among our sick.

The public will please excuse me for making my last few letters so long. I have about caught up now and will make them shorter.

Yes, Mr. Editor, I almost forgot. I hope you won't intrude upon those ladies in the office by asking them to pile up these chips, for I am sure they haven't been used to piling chips.

May the blessing of Heaven rest upon each one of you until I write again. Your friend, CHRS.

Head-End Collision on the Seaboard.

Savannah, Ga., Feb. 3.—Through a misreading or misunderstanding of orders, a fast passenger train and a through freight train collided head-on at Limerick, 20 miles from this city, on the Seaboard Air Line, early this morning. The trains had orders to meet and pass at Burrough's, 12 miles out. The freight engineer ran past his meeting point and met the passenger hurrying to make the siding. The freight train was laden with rock for jetty work and smashed the passenger badly. Both engineer and fireman jumped and escaped with injuries not necessarily fatal. Mail Clerk J. A. Rice of Jacksonville, Fla., was crushed so that he died in an hour. The wreck caught fire but it was extinguished. No passenger was seriously hurt.

Gleanings Around Timothy Creek

We had somewhat of a freeze here today.

Mrs. Kunkle is very low at this writing, and recovery seems to be impossible.

Whooping cough is taking the rounds.

Mr. Rufus Hunter has moved from Mr. Berley Harwkins' place to Mr. Chesley Dominick's near Julia post-office.

Mr. L. A. Boozer has sold out and moved to the Newberry cotton mill.

Mr. Arthur Dominick has sold out and left his father's plantation.

Misses Lilla Boxer, Mary Boozer and Maggie Boozer spent last Thursday night with Rev. Walter Henry and his noble wife.

Mrs. Rebecca Cousin and daughter, Miss Ellie, spent Sunday with Mr. John Cousin's family.

Rev. Walter S. Henry and wife spent a few days with their parents before leaving for their new quarters.

We want to thank Mr. Latimer for the nice seed received, and I mean to report the result. We have had some valuable seeds sent from the Agricultural department before and failed to report the result. I think it the duty of every one to let the department hear from them.

One of our correspondents in his last writing warned the people along the line of economy. One of our farmers remarked that he did not practice economy when he sowed oats this last fall, but put two and a half bushels to the acre, and has a good stand now, as the result. This put the writer to thinking, while this was not a bad warning, and while description of existing circumstances is beyond my estimation, still I think our people are an economical people, a live-at-home people, a people who always consult their purse before spending another man's money. Of course there are some exceptions.

Mr. Robert Schumpert is building more to his mill house.

Mr. Will Bickley and family have moved to Mr. Robert Schumpert's.

Whooping cough is with us.

The writer is recovering from a severe cold.

ONE THOUSAND DOLLAR.

The Price Paid on Warren's Head by Governor

[The State, Feb. 6th.]

Yesterday the governor offered a reward of $1,000 for the capture and conviction of Bartow Warren, the man who on August 26 last killed Thomas H. Watson at Branchville, and has since been at large. This new reward takes the place of the original reward offered. The governor has not stated his reasons for increasing the reward so materially, but he says he has good reasons for doing so.

Bartow Warren is the man who was tried for the single handed hold-up of the Southern railway train at Branchville a few years ago, at which time $1,700 was secured from the express car by the robber. He was out on bond in this matter when he met Watson who was one of the principal witnesses against him and killed him on the streets of Branchville.

ANNUAL STATE MEETING YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS.

Captain Hobson Among the Prominent Speakers.

Some of the association leaders in this State predict that the twenty fifth State Convention, which is to meet in Columbia, February 8, 11, will be a gathering of great power and inspiration. It will, in all probability, be the largest and most representative gathering of the kind ever held in South Carolina.

Charleston is working hard to bring the banner delegation.

Practically every college and university in the State will send delegations of its strongest men.

Young men from a great many communities, where there are no associations, are planning to go to learn something from this organization which has demonstrated its ability to cope with all problems that effect men.

The State executive committee, through the columns of this paper, extends a special invitation to the managements of cotton mills to send a representative, to participate in the discussion relating to practicality of establishing work among the men and boys employed in factory districts.

Ministers and other Christian men who are interested in the young men of their respective towns are invited to attend this meeting.

The convention opens on Saturday night, February 8, in the beautiful new building of the Columbia association. All men who are thinking of attending should communicate at once, with the State Secretary, addressing him at the Y. M. C. A. Building, Columbia, S. C. Upon application the proper credentials will be furnished.

The good people of Columbia will entertain all delegates providing due notice has been received by the association, of their coming prior to the convention.

The railroads of the State have granted reduced rates.

Among the prominent speakers is Capt. Richard P. Hobson, the hero of the Merrimac. Captain Hobson was president of the association while a cadet at West Point, and is a manly, vigorous type of the Christian soldier.

A Beautiful Story Illustrating Release of Pardon.

An Irish lad brought before the petty sessions for a misdemeanor was fined thirty shillings, and in default sentenced to thirty days in jail. His brother sold his farm implements and raised the money and went to the judge, paid the money,

Reduced Rates Via Southern Railway.

Very reduced rates are now in effect from all points on the Southern Railway to Charleston, S. C. and return, account of the South Carolina Interstate and West Indian Exposition.

Every day at the great exposition offers special attractions. Here are some of the big days during the first part of February:

President's Day, February 12th: President Roosevelt, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Alice Roosevelt, and members of the Cabinet will spend the day named at the Charleston Exposition. A large civic parade will take place in honor of the distinguished visitors, and many prominent speakers will welcome the party in the large Auditorium at the Exposition grounds, where the President will personally address the people.

Mardi-gras and Flower Fiesta, Feb. 8th, 9th, 10th, and 11th: These days will be given over to an event that is rarely seen outside of New Orleans King Carnival and his many retainers will lead the way to unbounded pleasure. Magnificent spectacles will mark this occasion. The landing of the King; the triumphal march to the Exposition grounds; the crowning of the monarch and his Queen will start the fiesta; its continuance will be one round of flower parades, music, masquerades, and pleasure.

Good Roads Convention, Feb. 5th, 6th, 7th: Under the auspices of the State Good Roads Association, the National Good Road Ass'n with its special Southern Ry. train equipped with the most improved road-making implements, will give a practical demonstration of road-making at the Exposition on dates given above.

The Southern Railway operates frequent and fast trains to Charleston from all points, with through pullman cars. For further information call on or write any agent on this or connecting lines.
